

Angels Carry You

By Geela Rayzel Raphael © 2005

Written for Savina Teuval's exit of this world

At this time of transition, going to the Light
At this time of transition, going home is right
Let go of the struggle, let go of your fear
All will be forgiven, your slate to be cleared

May the angels carry you
May the angels carry you.

Your work is done, it is time to rest
The fruit of your hands & your soul be blessed
Joining your ancestors, finding a new way
Crossing the threshold, wrapped in G-d's embrace.

May the angels carry you (2x)

Surrounded by love, angels take your hand
Guiding you on, its part of the plan
Shechinah welcomes you opening her wings
Hearing the chorus. Join the angels singing.
